RELATIONS BETWEEN GERMANY AND RUSSIA BECOMING STRAINED

VERBAL RECRIMINATIONS MAY CAUSE OUTBREAK OF HOSTILITIES

By The Associated Press.

A widening breach in Russo-German relations eached in the Soviet press today in answer to Chancellor Adolf Hitler's caustic comment on bolshevism and Jews at Nurnberg, Germany.

Newspapers called the Nazi convention "Hitler's Traveling Circus" and observers feared serious consequences might follow in the event of a German and Russian to call off their vituperative attacks on each other.

Der Fuehrer's proclamation of an economic program for the war-labor colonies stirred hostile reaction in other European capitals.

Authoritative sources in Paris said France would refuse to yield any of its mandates over former German possessions.

Whitehall was silent but informed sources in London indicated the door was not shut to negotiations over colonial issues.

A South African spokesman threatened any effort to treat Africans as "pawns in the European game" would be resisted.

Authoritative league of nations sources in Geneva viewed demands for territorial expansion as a natural consequence of the Reich's rearmament but said the only course open peaceably to Germany is through negotiations with the mandate powers, principally France and Great Britain.

Soviets Rained Troops and Band From Air Today

MINSK, U. S. S. R., Sept. 10.—(P)—Soviet Russia's army, to the accompaniment of amazed gasps from foreign observers, landed 1-200 troops and a regimental band simultaneously in a fleet of warplanes in parachutes today.

The feat was accomplished during war games in progress here.

The troops, carrying machine guns and ammunition and reinforced with a platoon of paratroopers from other places, occupied an "enemy" airfield and began to use it as a base, deep within "hostile" territory.

REBEL COMMANDER OF BESIEGED FORCE REFUSES SURRENDER

GOVERNMENT OFFER CARRIES DEMAND TO IMPRISONED ALCAZAR GARRISON

By JAMES C. OLDFIELD (Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press.)

TOLEDO, Spain, Sept. 10.—(P)—With supreme courage and icy calm, Col. Jose Mascaron, commander of voluntarily imprisoned rebels in the besieged Alcazar, refused a government demand to surrender today.

With Gen. Emilio Mola (rebel leader) at the gates of Madrid, Mascaron told a blindfolded socialist officer who walked into the rebel camp to present the ultimatum.

"With the curt phrase: 'Whatever befalls me and my men shall befall us all,' Mascaron dismissed a further request to release from the Alcazar the hundreds of women and children who have camped inside the shattered walls of the fortress for the last 51 days.

As an afterthought, Colonel Mascaron added:

"You can send us a priest in case we need any religious aid."

Major Juan Rojo, staff officer of the government forces, braved the danger of possible death inside the Alcazar, where approximately 1,500 rebels are living, to present the ultimatum.

Kidnaped From Buggy

Police of several states united in a widespread search for 17-month-old Harry Browne, Jr. (above), who disappeared from his perambulator in a Detroit Park. (Associated Press Photo)

Officers Claim Know Identity Baby Kidnaped

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—(P)—A "hot tip" in the search for the missing Harry Browne, 20-month old baby who apparently was kidnaped here last Saturday, collapsed abruptly today shortly after Acting Chief of Detectives William J. Collins announced that he expected to have the kidnaper momentarily.

The man sought in southern Michigan and northern Ohio as kidnaper was found and identified as a Detroit beer garden proprietor who had quarreled with his wife, taken their 2-year old baby and "hit" her.

Collins said.

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—(P)—Acting Chief of Detectives William J. Collins announced at noon today that "we know the identity and whereabouts of the kidnaper of Harry Browne, and expect to close in on him momentarily."

Collins said the man slept last night in a tourist camp in Ohio, and that he left early this morning, telling the proprietor of the camp that "I've got to get this kid back to Detroit right away."

The 20-month old Browne baby disappeared Saturday from the park where his small brothers had taken him in his perambulator.

"We have traced the man's movements minutely since he left Detroit Wednesday morning," Collins said. "We know definitely that he is still alive and with this man. We hope to have the man and the child within an hour."

Collins said he had information that the man remained "in hiding in a Detroit suburb after the abduction and left at 3 a. m. Wednesday."

SPANISH REBELS TURN DOWN PLAN 15-DAY ARMISTICE

REBELS REPORTED TURNING THEIR ATTENTION TO MARCH ON MADRID

By The Associated Press.

Spanish rebels, a Pamplona newspaper reported today, have turned down a proposal for a 15-day general armistice in the civil war.

The proposal, credited to a "diplomat of great influence," envisaged a change in the radical Spanish constitution during the 15-day period to make it more acceptable to rightist elements revolting against the socialist dominated government.

With an unofficial armistice apparently prevailing before the besieged city of San Sebastian, the rebels were reported turning their entire attention to a new march on Madrid.

Their junta, at Burgos, formally announced a rebel plane was not responsible for the attempted bombing of the United States destroyer Kane last Aug. 30.

A blindfolded government officer walked into the shell-shattered Alcazar where 1,700 rebels and their families have defied capture for two months, walked out again with a flat refusal of a government demand for surrender.

The San Sebastian truce, not acknowledged by leaders of either side but nevertheless an apparent fact, came after Basque nationalists in the city seized control from anarchists who threatened to fire the whole resort, rather than surrender. The anarchists were deported and advancing rebel columns drew up short.

Commander Defiant.

Col. Jose Mascaron, the commander of the rebels entrenched in the Alcazar, told the messenger from the government "whatever befalls me and my men shall befall you all."

Mola at the gates of Madrid, you will be the ones to surrender."

A rain of hand grenades and dynamite, from government positions was resumed, and big guns rocked the Alcazar with deadly blasts. A sudden rebel air raid

WONDERS OF GREAT SMOKY MOUNTAINS THRILL ROOSEVELT

PRESIDENT RESTS AT ASHEVILLE, N. C., TODAY EN ROUTE TO CHARLOTTE

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 10.—(P)—President Roosevelt left here by motor before noon today for Charlotte where he will deliver an address to a seven-state democratic rally in the Municipal stadium.

The President finished preparing the speech early this morning, having remained up late dictating it in a top-floor suite of the Grove Park Inn.

He was due in Charlotte shortly before the time he was scheduled to speak, around 5:30 o'clock.

A stop along the way at Lake Lure for lunch was planned.

His route lay through Rutherfordton, Forest City, Shelby, Kings Mountain and Gastonia.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 10.—(P)—Thrilled by the wonders of Great Smoky Mountain National Park, President Roosevelt enjoyed a few hours of leisure in this resort city today, before leaving for Charlotte to address a southern states rally.

He kept to his room at the Grove Park Inn late last night dictating the only formal address of the trip.

The president timed his departure.

U. S. Warships Are Withdrawn Spanish Waters Thursday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—Secretary Hull announced today that the four American warships now in Spanish waters have been ordered withdrawn.

The ships, which were sent to Spanish waters in late July to aid in the evacuation of American nationals from the revolutionary zone, have been instructed to proceed to nearby ports to await possible emergency calls from Spain.

In announcing the action, Hull reviewed repeated and insistent appeals made by the state department to Americans in Spain to leave the country and noted that since the outbreak of revolution, some 1,000 nationals have been removed from the danger zone.

COMPLETE DETAILS RAISING OF FUNDS UNITED CHARITIES

EVERY PERSON IN CITY BE GIVEN OPPORTUNITY TO CONTRIBUTE

Festus A. Pierce, campaign director for the United Charities association's drive for $4,000, was busy Thursday working out his organization. At a meeting of the association's directors Wednesday the dates were set for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22, 23 and 24.

Mr. Pierce announced that an advance contribution committee will be appointed to make an intensive canvass for larger contributions the latter part of the week ending Sept. 18. On the dates set for the drive groups of workers representing various civic bodies will make a systematic campaign to see and get subscriptions or contributions from everyone in the city.

To Canvass City.

Committees of women will canvass the residential section of the city simultaneously with the other groups. In addition several booths will be set up in advantageous downtown locations, with women attendants, to contact other persons for dollar contributions.

Mr. Pierce said the demands upon the United Charities are increasing each day, now as the fall and winter seasons draw near, and indications are that this year's work will be the heaviest since the beginning of government relief, several years ago.

"In fact," Mr. Pierce said, "the status of the United Charities is back just where it was before relief agencies were set up. This is due to the fact that government relief agencies now do not supply direct relief, but furnish

COMPLETE DERRICK FOR TRINITY SAND TEST WEST OF CITY

OIL ACTIVITY RENEWED AS OTHER WELLS ARE RUMORED IN COUNTY

Derrick has been completed and machinery is reported being moved in on the Trinity sand test to be drilled on the S. P. Love farm, about 10 miles southwest of Corsicana by Philip S. Groginski and Ed Bateman, both of Fort Worth, and the test is expected to be spudded in within the next few days.

Believing that they have found substantial indications of a "high" formation in the ancient Trinity series, Messrs. Groginski and Bateman have blocked several thousand acres in the sector west of Corsicana, some of the leases extending west of Drane. It will be the first Trinity sand test in the Trinity position of the county and the second in the immediate vicinity of Corsicana.

Other Tests Drilled.

Last year two woodbine tests were drilled almost due west of Corsicana by E. M. Thomasson and others but no production was encountered.

Woodbine tests were drilled near Corbet and also in the Oak Valley communities. The operators are reported prepared to drill the tests to around 4200 feet where the Trinity series is expected, and

THREE MILLION ANGORA GOATS OF TEXAS HILL COUNTRY GIVE UP FOUR MILLION IN MOHAIR

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 10.—(P)—Three million Angora goats, sheared to the skin of nearly $4,000,000 worth of mohair, were wagging their heads on the hills of Southwest Texas today, doubtless hoping there will not be an early winter.

Their owners are banking the proceeds. There are not worrying about the damage which could be wrought by their nearly-naked heads should there be unseasonably severe cold because maximum temperatures in Texas are still in the nineties.

All but about 2,000,000 of the annual 7,000,000 pound fall clip has been sold at a price generally regarded in the sheep and goat country as excellent, continuing Angora herd owners in their position as among the nation's most prosperous agriculturalists.

The mohair which is now ranking its way into world markets will be ultimately processed into automobile and furniture upholstery and rich draperies.

This year prices have ranged from 55 cents a pound for grown

CORSICANAN ACCEPTS CUP FROM TEXAS SWEETHEART

Beauford Jester of Corsicana, new president of the First Officers Training Camp Association (right) is shown as he received the loving cup on behalf of the First Infantry Company which had the largest attendance at the association convention last week in Fort Worth. Miss Fay Cotton, Texas Sweetheart No. 1 at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial, made the presentation. Austin F. Anderson, Fort Worth, retiring president, is looking on.

Mississippi Be Banner Cotton State This Year

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10.—(P)—To the state of Mississippi will fall the distinction of turning out the number one cotton crop of the south this season, latest government statistics indicated today.

It will also be the best yield for the state from a money standpoint since 1929.

While Texas with nearly 12,000,000 acres planted to cotton, will grow more than Mississippi, the fertile soil of the delta has raised the yield per acre in Mississippi to 265 pounds, well above the Texas average.

Crop commentators attributed the excellent showing by Mississippi farmers this season to two factors, good weather and good farming.

The good farming was reflected in the 265-pound average per acre for the state, the best since 1925. Improved seed, intelligent use of fertilizer and the assistance of government and state experiment stations were said to be beneficial in raising production.

Record Is Broken As Cross Named In Connecticut Again

EASTERN POINT, Conn., Sept. 10.—(P)—For the fourth successive time, a record unparalleled in the party's history in Connecticut, Governor Wilbur L. Cross was renominated today by the democratic state convention.

The only member of his party ever to occupy the governor's chair for three consecutive terms, the 73-year old chief executive was renominated by acclamation.

TALMADGE LOSER IN GEORGIA PRIMARY BY OVERWHELMING VOTE

NEW DEAL CRITIC AND HIS SLATE DEFEATED IN WEDNESDAY VOTING

ATLANTA, Sept. 10.—(P)—Governor Eugene Talmadge, new deal critic, today congratulated Senator Richard B. Russell, Jr., who overwhelmed him in yesterday's democratic senatorial race.

"I am in good health, in the prime of my life, happy and thankful to the people of Georgia for the honors they have bestowed upon me, and stand ever ready in the future to help in any way that I can the people of my state and nation," Talmadge said.

ATLANTA, Sept. 10.—(P)—Senatorial hopes of Governor Eugene Talmadge, new deal critic, were buried today under an avalanche of ballots indorsing pro-Roosevelt Richard B. Russell, Jr., for reelection.

Russell, tenth southern democratic leader to be renominated this year, made loyalty to the President the keynote of his successful fight for the six year term in yesterday's party primary.

The red-suspended governor, his gubernatorial "hell apparent," and a slate of half a dozen state officers were swept out by popular majorities running up to two to one.

Russell, lean 38-year old six-foot bachelor, maintained his record of no defeats in a political career which sent him from the governor's chair to the senate.

It was the first political setback for the swarthy, cigar-chewing executive who has fought Roosevelt for nearly two years.

E. D. Rivers, 40-year old house speaker and former Talmadge ally, kept pace with Russell in rolling up a wide lead over senate president Charles D. Rodwinn—Talmadge's gubernatorial rival—and Judge Blanton Fortson, another anti-Talmadgeite.

Drought Reduces Corn Crop Almost Billion Bushels

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—Drought's effect on crop prospects during August was shown today when the Department of Agriculture announced the indicated corn crop this year, based on September 1 conditions, was 1,458,235,000 bushels, compared with 1,439,135,000 bushels indicated a month ago and 2,244,884,000 bushels two months ago. Last year's crop was 2,201,620,000 bushels.

The indicated production of all wheat, the winter and spring varieties combined, is 630,241,000 bushels, compared with 632,745,000 bushels a month ago, 638,339,000 two months ago, and 623,444,000 produced last year.

Spring wheat production is indicated as 111,444,000 bushels, compared with 112,658,000 a month ago, 126,314,000 two months ago, and 159,241,000 produced last year.

durum wheat production is forecast at 8,640,000 bushels, compared with 9,031,000 a month ago, 9,610,000 two months ago, and 22,957,000 produced last year.

Other spring wheat indicated production is 102,504,000 bushels, compared with 104,617,000 a month ago, 115,794,000 two months ago, and 136,283,000 produced last year.

DROUGHTS, DUST STORMS, PESTS AND OTHER DRAWBACKS FAIL TO REDUCE POPULATION FARM AREA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—A government population study showed today that repeated droughts, dust storms, grasshopper plagues and other adversities in the Great Plains states had failed to reduce the number of persons on farms there in recent years.

"The popular impression that there has been considerable depopulation in that section," said Dr. Conrad Taeuber of the division of farm population and rural life, who made the study.

"Taken as a whole the farm population of the ten Plains States has remained almost stationary since the World War," Taeuber said.

One fifth of the entire farm population of this country was living in the Plains States on January 1, 1935, he said. These included the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico.

However, the increase of farm population in the ten states between 1910 and 1935 was placed at only 45,000, or less than one half the number of children born to farm women there in any one of the recent years.

Taeuber noted that the census of agriculture taken last year, immediately after the 1934 drought, showed the population "had been changed less than one tenth of one per cent between 1930 and 1935."

Taeuber said another mistaken popular impression was that relief lands had been heaviest in dry-land areas of the Plains States.

He said a chart of relief areas showed most of them were "welded to the eastward of the dust bowl."

SPECIAL SESSION CALLED TO CONSIDER PENSION REVENUES

GOVERNOR INTIMATES OTHER MATTERS MAY ALSO BE SUBMITTED

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—(P)—Governor Allred today called a special session of the legislature to convene Sept. 28. The governor said the primary purpose of the session would be to raise additional revenues for payment of old age pensions.

While the Governor did not commit himself at this time, it was expected the subject of enabling legislation to make other benefits of the Federal Social Security Act available to Texans also would be submitted.

"The only subject definitely in mind at this time," he said, "is the financing of old age pensions. There may be others. I don't know right now."

He expressed opinion that legislation to change the old age assistance law would not be in order under his call. He declined to say whether revisions were needed.

"I know this," he said. "Far more people are qualifying for pensions that it was estimated would. This is because the Texas law is so liberal."

The original estimate was for 60,000 pensioners, but that number already has been exceeded, and thousands of applications have not been passed upon.

Revenue Recommendations.

The Governor said he would make recommendations on means of raising additional revenue, but would not announce them now.

"I don't know how much will be necessary," he said.

He voiced hope that only one session of 30 days would be necessary. Under the law, a special session may extend only 30 days, but in the past additional sessions frequently have been called immediately.

"I also hope there will be a minimum of local bills," he added. "That always is a tough problem."

Japan Threatens Drastic Measures In Killing Case

TOKYO, Sept. 10.—(P)—Japanese army officials asserted their conviction today the government must take drastic measures to avenge the killing of Japanese nationals in China.

"Unless China is made to realize the real situation and sincerely seek better relations with Japan, she must expect a repetition of such incidents," a war office statement said.

The incidents referred to the slaying of two Japanese by a mob at Chengtu and the reported killing of another at Pakhoi.

DECLINE IN CRUDE RUNS REPORTED FOR SECOND MONTH JULY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—The Bureau of Mines reported today daily average crude oil production in July was 2,670,000 barrels, a decrease of 35,900 barrels from June, and the second successful month in which production declined.

Daily average crude runs to stills were estimated at 2,958,000 barrels, 9,000 barrels below June. The bureau said despite this decline, withdrawals from storage production was greater.

The net withdrawal from refinable crude stocks in July was 4,636,000 barrels, leaving them at 306,390,000 barrels July 31.

A new high for indicated consumption of motor fuel was set in July, the bureau said, with a demand of 6,692,000 barrels, a daily average of 1,506,000 barrels which was nearly 13 per cent higher than a year ago. Exports of motor fuel was 2,968,000 barrels of finished and unfinished gasoline declined 4,931,000 barrels to a total of 62,446,000 barrels.

The bureau said this total was

ROOSEVELT-GARNER LEADERSHIP PRAISED BY KEYNOTE SPEAKER

WILLIAM C. REPASS, HOUSTON, LASHES REPUBLICAN REACTIONARIES

By H. C. MARSHALL, Associated Press Staff Writer.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 8.—(P)—Two thousand cheering democrats heard William C. Repass, Houston editor, praise the administrations of President Roosevelt and Governor James V. Allred in the keynote address at the state party convention here today.

Rebel yells rang through the big auditorium as he lashed the republican party for what he termed its reactionary policies and called on all good democrats to "go forth into the November battle."

Congressman Fritz Lanham of Fort Worth drew the first big applause when in the welcoming address, he mentioned the names of the president, Vice-president John N. Garner and Governor Allred, describing them as "the three musketeers of democracy."

"Through the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner," Lanham said, "contentment and hope have returned to the American people. And their splendid record of accomplishments, the republicans will rail in vain."

The auditorium was ablaze with color as delegates gathered to declare the party nominees, give them a platform of principles to run on and choose a new executive committee.

Flags waved beneath huge pictures of President Roosevelt, Vice-president Garner and Governor Allred. A band from Bowie, birth place of the governor, entertained with music.

Blalock Asks Million Votes.

There were cheers as Myron Blalock of Marshall, hanging a big gavel, called the convention to order, an hour after the time set, then urged Texas democrats to roll up more than a million votes for the national ticket in the general election.

"No longer does the two-thirds rule apply in the nomination of candidates for president at our national convention," Blalock pointed out. "It is probable that at future national conventions the vote of each state may be based upon its showing of democratic strength at the last national election. For this one reason alone, it is highly important that democrats cast their ballots for our ticket in November."

Blalock challenged contentions that Texas should become a two-party state.

"We invite comparison," he said, "compare the representation of this state in the national congress with that of other states; compare the influence and ability and standing of our two stalwart senators and of our strong delegation of representatives with those elected from the two-party states and you will not find in such comparison any argument that argues well for building up another strong party in Texas."

Against Two-Party State. "Take into consideration the fiscal affairs of our state government as compared with others. Consider the ability, capacity, integrity of our state officials, all democrats—each elected without serious competition from the candidate of any other party."

The democracy of Texas can, with pride, call attention to its sound financial condition, the negligible amount of our bonded indebtedness, the sane and cautious manner in which our government is administered with fairness and justice to all citizens of our citizenship—and not least among those to whom the credit should be given is the present governor, who has refused during recent troublous time to be swayed by the machinations of demagogic appeals to the fancies and desires of the uninformed and unthinking—our brilliant young governor, James V. Allred."

Blalock called attention to conflict in the election statutes and urged that the legislature eliminate them. He cited what he termed "fixes" of the running of the law in use in Texas for 18 years, but made no recommendations as to its continuation.

Approve Temporary Officers. The convention approved Repass as temporary chairman, Mrs. Oleta Culp Hobby of Houston as temporary parliamentarian and Sara Borschow of San Antonio temporary sergeant-at-arms. Committees on credentials and permanent organization were chosen.

Miss Marion Fore of Floresville queen of the democratic national convention at Philadelphia, was unanimously elected, amid applause, as queen of the state convocation.

Senator-Elect Franklin Spears of San Antonio, said he was in "a fine frame of mind" to sponsor a resolution condemning the regents of the University of Texas for imposing a faculty censorship on the Daily Texan, student newspaper.

Congressman Maury Maverick, also of San Antonio, recently denounced the censorship and appealed to national educational organizations to work against it. State Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogota was named chairman of the important platform and resolutions committee.

Other committee chairmen were: Credentials, R. L. Morris of Chillicothe; permanent organization, Earle B. Mayfield, Jr., of Tyler; caucusing elections, returns, H. H. Jackson of Coleman; nomination of party officers, Marvin Hall of Brownsville.

Enthusiasm Marks Gathering Democrats

FORT WORTH, Sept. 8.—(P)—Representatives of 1,000,000 Texas democrats met today in convention, bubbling over with confidence of victory in the general election in November.

Back-slapting leaders, ridiculing any possibility of a republican division, predicted a tremendous outpouring of votes for the new committee.

Agrarian Mob Kills Judge In Mexican Town

LAREDO, Sept. 10.—(P)—The Laredo Times today reported an agrarian mob assassinated Auxiliary Judge Jose Maria Garza at San Marcella La Florencia, 30 miles south of Monterrey, when he told them the slayer of one of their comrades had been taken to Pecos for safe keeping.

Judge Garza died with 40 bullets in his body. Two passers-by suffered serious wounds.

Governor Guerrero ordered an immediate investigation. Reports said an Agrarian mob was killed in a dance hall and the mob went to Judge Garza's residence seeking the murderer. Reports said the mob was led by a man named about 40 men armed with pistols and rifles.

San Marcella La Florencia is the capital of Nuevo Leon. Judge Garza was reputed to be an anti-agrarian leader.

Angus Residents In Delightful Tour Of New Mexico, Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parker and sons, Valton and Lloyd, of Angus, have recently returned from an enjoyable trip through New Mexico and Colorado.

After leaving New Mexico, they were joined by Mr. Parker's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Wagoner, for a ten-day's scenic drive among the mountains of these two states.

Some of the most beautiful sights enjoyed by the party were: The Sandia Drive, the Red River Valley, and the Eagles Nest Lake of New Mexico. From this last-mentioned spot, they drove through the Wolf Creek Pass over the San Juan Mountains in Colorado, spending a day and night at Barnes Lake, in the heart of the San Juan mountains.

From here they went to the Mesa Verde Park in Colorado, visiting the old Indian ruins of the ancient cliff-dwellers, including the Balcony House and the Cliff Palace. On their return trip to Laredo, they stopped at various times to see the old home and grave of Kit Carson, and to attend an Indian tribal council, danced to bring good harvest, held yearly at Isleta, New Mexico.

After spending a few days at the Wagoner home in Laredo, the party augmented by the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wagoner, went to Carlsbad for two days, visiting the Carlsbad Caverns during this time. At Carlsbad, the party separated and returned to their respective homes in New Mexico and Texas, having spent two very happy weeks together.

REVISED SCHEDULE FOR LANDON'S TRIP EAST IS ANNOUNCED

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 10.—(P)—A revised schedule of Gov. Alf M. Landon's eastbound campaign trip to Maine today listed 14 rear-platform talks in Indiana and New England.

Speeches on the return itinerary still were under consideration. A last-minute added stop at the presidential nominee's headquarters to close the Maine state campaign Saturday night was scheduled at 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

The hour of the republican candidate's Portland talk was set for 9 p. m. Eastern daylight time. This increased the number of Massachusetts stops from three to four.

Reports on Aug. 21 of a Portuguese revolution against the dictatorial Lisbon regime were denied flatly. The reports, reaching London at the height of the Spanish civil war, said President Oscar Carmona had been killed. This too, was vehemently denied.

Because of its strategic position on the Iberian peninsula, Portugal has been a major factor in the international situation created by the Spanish conflict between a socialist-communist republican government and fascist army rebels.

PORTUGAL SUCCEEDS IN STOPPING REVOLT BY DRASTIC ACTION

LAND BATTERIES QUICKLY SUBDUED REBELLION ABOARD TWO NAVAL VESSELS

(Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press.)

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 8.—Alert Portuguese government gunners, pounding two mutinous warships with shells, crushed a brief naval rebellion in the Tagus river harbor off Lisbon today.

Disabled by a stream of fire from land batteries, the two vessels, manned by rebellious crews which planned to steam away from Lisbon for an undisclosed destination, were towed to a beach and their seamen thrown into chains.

Six mutineers were killed and nine were injured. Two British steamers, the Asturias and the Strathmore, were witnesses.

The Asturias just had entered the Tagus when the engagement opened, but was untouched. The Strathmore, carrying several hundred British holiday-makers, entered the bay when the firing started, but quickly withdrew.

(There were indications that censorship was delaying details of the revolt, including word as to whether the rebellion was connected with the Spanish civil war. Fugals, accused by Madrid of aiding fascist rebels in Spain, had failed to definitely accept participation in the work of the international neutrality committee which meets at London tomorrow.)

Only Quick Work Saves Day. Only quick work by the batteries Alodique and Almada prevented serious consequences of the revolt.

In the morning, the crew of the destroyer Dao and part of the crew aboard the sloop Alfonso De Albuquerque revolted, and authorities ordered the nearby fortresses to fire.

Both ships were damaged, then towed to shallow water, beached, and the crews arrested. Extraordinary precautions were taken in Lisbon by the government but the rest of the country was declared to be quiet.

Six sailors were killed in the bombardment of the Alfonso De Albuquerque and nine were wounded, several critically. They were removed from the ship and taken to hospital.

Ministries and other public buildings while all remaining troops were held in readiness in their barracks to meet any emergency. The government placed Lisbon under a state of "precaution" as detachments of troops moved through the city to occupy strategic points after the mutiny.

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 8.—(P)—The Portuguese government, quickly swinging land batteries into action, today crushed a short-lived rebellion two naval vessels anchored in the Tagus River.

The crew of the destroyer Dao and part of the crew of the sloop Alfonso De Albuquerque revolted in the early morning and authorities ordered nearby fortresses to open fire.

Both vessels then were towed to shallow water and beached. The crews were arrested. The remainder of the country was declared by officials to be quiet.

However, the government took extraordinary precautions in Lisbon. The British liner Strathmore, wirelessless the peninsula and Oriental steamship line that she was falling in the Lisbon harbor and that the vessel was leaving immediately for London.

Ten miles from the sea proper, the river Tagus widens to form the Lisbon harbor, considered one of the best in the world.

The gains were attributed to a marked improvement in trade and a trade revival has swelled particularly, to a building boom.

Enthusiasm Marks Gathering Democrats

FORT WORTH, Sept. 8.—(P)—Representatives of 1,000,000 Texas democrats met today in convention, bubbling over with confidence of victory in the general election in November.

Back-slapting leaders, ridiculing any possibility of a republican division, predicted a tremendous outpouring of votes for the new committee.

DROP OF ONLY 20,000 BARRELS IN OIL PRODUCTION DECLARED NOT ENOUGH HOLD MARKET UP

By ALFRED WALL, Associated Press Staff Writer.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 9.—(P)—Their eyes on the crude oil production chart, petroleum executives noted with only slight complacency today a drop of 20,000 barrels daily in the past week.

The indicator showed more than 3,000,000 barrels daily still were being drawn from crude reserves, well above the bureau of mines estimated demand for September.

There were two distinct views of the situation. Those pessimistically inclined forecast the huge production, despite the nation's unprecedented consumption of refined products, would bring about a drop in crude oil prices before the snow flies.

The other school, noting curtailment already under way in response to recommendations of interstate oil compact members, saw nothing to fear in the future price structure of crude oil or gasoline.

The end of the labor holiday was expected to bring a decided slump in demand. On the other hand surveys indicated an extraordinarily late tourist season, with many a family putting off its yearly tour until cooler weather.

Two big producers were completed in the Moore field of Cleveland County, Okla., extending the limits of the field north and south to include about a mile of new producing territory.

Northern Louisiana was being scanned for producing possibilities after the discovery of oil by the Ohio Oil company in the Travis Peak formation just below 5,500 feet in the cotton valley field.

Juliana, Plump and Jolly Princess of Netherlands, Wed

GERMAN ROYAL COURT SAYS

(Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—(P)—A holiday romance in Switzerland was climaxed today by the royal court announcement that plump and jolly Juliana, heir to The Netherlands throne, will wed a German prince.

He is Bernhard Zu Lippe-Bleisfeld, a smart dresser, an expert linguist and an ardent devotee of sports.

Juliana, too, loves the athletic life. Tennis is her forte. The date for the wedding was not announced.

Juliana, who is 27 years old, two years older than the nobleman who is to become her prince consort, frequently has been the object of solicitude for Dutch match-makers.

They linked her name romantically—for a time—with that of King Edward VIII of England, one of the five princesses "eligible" to wed the British monarch.

But Prince Bernhard and Princess Juliana met and fell in love during the winter Olympics early this year in Germany at Garmisch. Going to Switzerland with Queen Wilhelmina recently, Juliana saw the German nobleman again.

He proposed, she accepted. Some court sources believed the

CLEVER WOMEN GAIN CIRCUS RENOWN AND SURE OF SPOTLIGHT

It will surprise many to know that the circus appeals to women more than to men—we are referring now to those who are seeking a vocation. Every day women of all ages seek the manager of a big circus such as the Russell Bros. Circus which is due in Corsicana on Monday, Sept. 12, and apply for an opportunity to join.

When asked if they have had experience in circus work or what can they do, they are generally frank enough to admit they are not performers, perhaps have never been away from home and conclude their answer to the manager by saying: "I am willing to try to do anything—don't you ever take apprentices—how can I get a start in the circus field?"

There have been instances where such inexperienced but determined women have managed to get with a circus and have made good and become stars. But as a rule the circus performer is practically bred in the business.

Another surprising fact is that women are more eager and willing to attempt truly dangerous feats than are the male performers. They are also apt to prove more versatile. The male actor is satisfied to do only one or two acts, but his feminine competitor is really eager to do even three or four turns—she seems to want to be in front of the circus crowd giving them thrills all of the time.

There is an unusual array of extraordinary feminine talent with Russell Bros. Circus this season, pretty, graceful, clever women, who do more than their share of pleasing the thrilling two hour performance. They are generally with others of their intimate family, very seldom alone with the circus. Probably three-fourths of them were born into the circus, and yet they are natural home-bodies, doing their own "housework" as it were and concocting all sort of dainty dishes for surprise treats, or originating new creations in their arena wardrobe.

Abe Jacobs Weds Ruth Englander In Waco, September 5th

Of wide interest to Corsicana and Waco friends was the marriage Saturday night, September 5, of Abe Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jacobs 127 West Second avenue, to Miss Ruth Englander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Englander, 726 North Tenth Street, Waco.

The nuptials were performed by Rabbi Charles Blumenthal at his home, 1110 North Fifth street at 8 p. m. in the presence of the members of the two families.

The bride wore a two-piece suit of rust colored with fur trim and brown accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs departed immediately after the ceremony

Eight Texans Are Victims Of Labor Day Accidents

(By The Associated Press.)

Texas counted eight victims today of traffic accidents during the three-day week-end holiday. Only one automobile fatality was reported, however, on Labor Day. Mrs. Willetta Wilson of Altus, Okla., was fatally injured in a head-on car collision near Shamrock. Six other persons were injured, one critically.

More than a score of persons were reported hurt in other accidents.

for a two weeks wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Waco.

The bride has been quite prominent in both local and state activities in the Junior Council of Jewish women, holding the office of president of the state organization at the present time. She has been president of the local council, and holds the office of secretary of the Hebrew Free Loan Association.

CIRCUS ACT DEFIES DESCRIPTION; HELD ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE

AERIAL ACTS OF FISHER'S FEARLESS FLYERS ARE SENSATIONAL

The last of a score of beautiful prancing steeds carrying pretty maidens has disappeared from view, the horse show section of Russell Bros. Circus is ended. The big arena is bare and quiet—but just for a second—suddenly there is a loud blast by the trumpeters of Prof. Myers' Concert Band, and the signal is given for the endurance of the world's greatest aerial troupe.

As these artists march to the center ring with remarkable grace, richly costumed, perfect specimens of manhood and womanhood, the audience does not need an announcer to tell them that a most unusual act is to be presented.

After Russell Bros. Circus has entertained and thrilled the circus-goers of Corsicana on Monday, Sept. 21, one of the acts to be remembered and discussed and which does much to distinguish this circus from the ordinary one, will be the sensational work of the Fishers.

Bob Fisher's fearless flyers climb the rope ladders to the lofty pedestals. The band ceases its march tune and drifts softly into a beautiful waltz. The performers have a look of determination and confidence. The spectators sit back in the seats, breathlessly awaiting the climax of an unusual circus performance. As the act proceeds, and dangerous, thrilling and seemingly impossible tricks are executed with reckless abandon, the audience, almost as a unit, gradually moves forward, sitting on the edge of the seats as if eager to be ready to catch one of the aerialists in an emergency.

Bob Fisher's Fearless Flyers are known all over the world for they have won the stars and stripes around the globe. Probably, some of this community may have seen them abroad. They have been featured at the Cirque Royal, Paris, France; Cirque Royal, Brussels, Belgium; Flora Theatre, Hamburg, Germany; Tivoli Park, Stockholm, Sweden; Tivoli Gardens, Copenhagen, Denmark; Circo Price, Madrid, Spain; Theatre Coliseo, Buenos Aires, Santos Artigos Circus, Havana, Cuba; Principe Theatre, Mexico City; Circo Yucateco, Merida, Yucatan; Elks Circus, Honolulu.

The performance of Bob Fisher's Fearless Flyers is often acclaimed as being worth the time and money it costs to see the Russell Bros. Circus.

MOTHER CORSICANA WOMAN BURIED IN HILLSBORO TODAY

HILLSBORO, Sept. 7.—Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Lou Menefee, aged 63 years, who died Sunday afternoon, were scheduled to be held here Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock with interment in the Ridge Park cemetery.

A native of Marquez, Limestone county, she was married to the late Dr. A. J. Menefee in 1880. Surviving are her mother, Mrs. M. E. Menefee, one brother, L. J. McKenzie, Muleshoe; three sisters, Mrs. W. W. Carpenter, Sudan; Mrs. W. W. Hulen, Maxwell, N. M.; and Mrs. D. W. Cobb, Hillsboro; three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Hammock, Irene; Mrs. Artie Spivy, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Pansy Hollingsworth, Corsicana.

Refreshing Relief

When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. Mr. J. Lester Robertson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

Circus Performers In Family Groups

Are the rule with the large tented enterprises—we have here Francis and Maxine Fisher, mother and daughter, and they are two reasons why the sensational aerial act by the Five Fearless Flyers will score a hit when it is presented by Russell Bros. Circus in Corsicana on Monday, Sept. 21.

Card of Thanks.
We take this method of thanking each and every one who were so kind and sympathetic during our sorrow, by the death of our husband, father, son, and brother, Leithard H. Davis. We do especially thank one and all who had part in the beautiful floral offering, and we also thank those who had part in the singing. We would not forget the wonderful consolation brought by Rev. T. R. Vaughn. May God's richest blessings rest upon each and every one is our prayer.—Mrs. L. H. Davis and Son; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis and Family; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Davis; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Runnels, and Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Starks.

Notice

There will be an ice cream supper at Carl's Switch, six miles north of Corsicana, Saturday night, Sept. 12th, for the benefit of the church. Everyone is invited. Come and enjoy a social hour with us.

PLEAS FOR WORLD PEACE AND LABOR UNITY ARE HEARD

(By The Associated Press.)
Pleas for world peace and equity among American labor unions lay before the nation today, as it pondered the speechmaking that marked Labor Day.

"Some excerpts from addresses by well known persons follow:
War and peace:
Secretary of State Cordell Hull:

"We find today a lamentable absence of appreciation by many responsible and influential statesmen that these present warlike tendencies can only lead to a world holocaust."
Governor Alf M. Landon: "We must have the strong will for peace. We must be ready to sacrifice short-run profits."

The schism of the A. F. of L.: Governor Landon: "It is to be hoped that organized labor continue its part in the struggle for higher living standards, and to be really effective it must be united."

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor: "The enemies of labor will be the only beneficiaries of division, discord and bitterness within the family of organized labor."

FILING OF PETITION SIGNED BY OVER FORTY THOUSAND PUTS NORRIS IN CANDIDATE LISTS

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Senator George W. Norris, veteran Nebraska republican independent, today became a candidate for re-election with the filing in the secretary of state's office of a petition bearing 40,504 signatures in his behalf.

The petitions were filed by James E. Lawrence, Lincoln editor, as chairman of a bi-partisan Norris-for-senator committee, only 1,000 signatures are needed.

Since Nebraska laws do not require Norris' acceptance of the petitions, he automatically became a candidate. Although he is 75 years old and has expressed a desire to retire, his friends in Nebraska are confident he will make the race.

A nominal republican throughout his career, he will go into the campaign with democratic support ranging up to President Roosevelt, who publicly endorsed the movement to re-elect Norris.

His opponents will be Robert G. Simmons of Lincoln, the republican nominee, and Terry Carpenter of Scotts Bluff, the democratic nominee. Both are former congressmen from Scott Bluff.

Carpenter, a Townsend plan candidate, was repudiated by the democratic state convention following the April 14 primary election and the convention urged Norris to run again.

Norris has been supporting the democratic presidential nominees since 1928 and plans to campaign for re-election of Franklin D. Roosevelt. The petition signatures represented persons in every county of the state, every incorporated city and several unincorporated villages. Lawrence said it was the largest petition ever filed on behalf of an individual candidate in Nebraska.

Farley "Very Happy."

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(AP)—James A. Farley, chairman of the democratic national committee, said today that he was "very happy" the petition for re-election of U. S. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska had been filed. "This country can ill afford to be deprived of the services of such an outstanding statesman and great American as Norris," Farley said.

RURAL SHADE MAN DIED ON TUESDAY; BURIAL WEDNESDAY

KKERENS, Sept. 9.—(Spl.)—William Benjamin Howell, age 67, for many years a resident of the Rural Shade community, died at his home there about noon Tuesday, following a paralytic stroke several days ago. Funeral services directed by Stockton Funeral Home, were held at Long Prairie Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, where interment was made.

Surviving Mr. Howell, besides his wife, are seven sons and three daughters as follows: Roy, Jack, L. E., Robert, Herman, Wilson and Lloyd Howell, all of the Rural Shade community; Mrs. Clyde Radney, Houston; Mrs. R. L. Smith and Mrs. John Radney of Rural Shade, and other relatives. Mr. Howell was one of the early settlers in the Rural Shade community, and it is reported that his is the first death in his immediate family.

ARMS FOR SPAIN

No outside nation, of course, is sending arms to Spain. All deny it. France has banned shipments to either belligerent. Italy denies any shipments. She's standing by to jump in herself if she deems it necessary. Why involve herself too soon? Germany denies officially that arms, planes or munitions have been shipped to Spain. Great Britain has clamped an arms embargo down, and says it's too tight to let anything through. Austria says she wouldn't think of bothering to sell to Spain—she's waiting to sell to closer neighbors any minute now.

But arms are getting in somehow. There are reports of British—manufactured gas bombs used by the rebels. Italian airplanes, Austrian bullets, and various munitions from various countries used by one side or the other. What about it?

It is just possible that the governments are telling the truth—maybe nothing is getting through at present.

But in time just before the outbreak of war, there were no embargoes. Munitions were doubtless piled up by both factions. And people who remember their revolutionary history or fiction—or even that of the late war—know how easy it is to evade these embargoes. Parts harmless in themselves, such as tractor belts or pistons or valves can be shipped in one bottom to a South American port and trans-shipped to Europe. It is only when these parts are assembled into tanks or airplanes or whatever that they become armament, offensive or defensive.

So long as the economic causes of war remain, and economic temptations for outsiders, the making and transporting of armament will go on. Only with the removal of hunger, tyranny and the fear of their recurrence can peace move in to stay.

ROMAN SILENCE.

Whatever Americans may think of Mussolini and his absolute rule, at least those sensitive to noise can appreciate him. He has made Italian cities, especially Rome, with all its street traffic, more silent than it has been for centuries. He forbids taxicab drivers to blow their horns. And incredible as it may seem, they obey.

That makes it hard for them, because pedestrians are still given to wandering along in the middle of the street.

Some are said to try barking at the jaywalkers. Others whistle. Others bang their cab doors. Many throw on their unlubricated brakes, making a screech worse than whistles. Others cluck loudly.

They might resort to the technique of the old-time horse-car drivers, when their thousands filled the streets. They would hiss with incredible ferocity, either at a jaywalker or a tourist over on the sidewalk. If that failed, they would lean over and crack their whip with the sound of a gun, about one inch from the pedestrian's ear. But that art is probably lost forever.

Walt Whitman, three-quarters of a century ago, announced that he spoke the word "en masse." Today people are speaking the word "co-op."

ABSENCE.

I should be busy about the place
And trimming the windows again with lace.
I should be weaving a rug for the floor,
But what is the use, since he'll come no more.
It is evening now and I ought to be Getting the things that he liked
for tea;
But I dread to have supertime draw near,
For it only reminds me he won't be here.

I sweep the floors as a dull routine,
But what do they matter now,
soiled or clean?
And here I am still with an old dress on
For he that I tidied up for is gone.

THOSE WHO SET FIRES

On both the Canadian and American sides of the border men have been arrested this summer on suspicion that they set and started the forest fires of this year. The futility of our whole penal system sweeps over the reader when he thinks about that. Punishment? What is it? A disgruntled mind, the work of half an hour or less, and a whole country-side is endangered. Can punishment, however severe, restore the burned and fallen trees?

People in regions where there are few or no forest fires are apt to think of them in terms of timber alone. But the smell of a true forest fire soon disabuses the mind of any such simplicity. Along with the sweet and poignant odor of the sacrifice of the green people comes the terrible odor of the burned flesh; burned fur. Beaver, lynx, marten, otter, deer, foxes, wolves, bears, ground-hogs, squirrels—all the animal folk of the forest suffer too. Sometimes the swimmers can get away by means of rivers or out in lakes. But too often the fire shoots over the water-course, and not knowing where to turn, the furry people perish.

Not even birds can always escape. The great heat, soaring so suddenly, sears wing feathers, distracts bird minds. Down they fall into the furnace.

Human beings, too, of course, sometimes are caught by the hot torture.

Why should those twisted souls want to set forest fires? What purpose have they? Oh, they think if they set a fire they can earn a few dollars putting it out. It's a sharp indictment of our economic system. Nor does the penal system help much.

SALT

Seven million pounds of rock salt is a good deal. That much was loaded onto barges on Cayuga Lake the other day, to be floated into Boston, New York and Maine. It took the largest fleet of barges to go down the lake since the beginning of the depression.

Salt is a valuable crop—if one can call it that. It goes into salad and into the pickle brine and it keeps the hams and bacon. Its uses in industry are legion. Nor are its symbolic uses to be overlooked. A little salt of humor eases many a bitter blow, and peps up many a tasteless situation. Taking the tall tale with its grains of salt is saving to the reason and the temper. And as for the moral and spiritual life, "if the salt shall lose its savor, wherewith shall it be salted?"

EGGS

Hats off, and all stand at attention, in honor of the Rhode Island Red hen in Augusta, Me., who laid 214 eggs in 214 successive days, at the State Experimental Station in Monmouth. This stupendous hen is owned by Philip Steele and Son of Biddeford. It takes a firm to own such a hen. She herself ought to be incorporated.

Seems as if she should have an individual name, and be entitled to a life-long license to cackle.

This nation, like any convalescent, gets a lot of satisfaction out of groaning and grouching.

SHE LOOKS BETTER THAN EVER!

By Chamberlain

ARGUMENTATIVE IRELAND.

Ireland is having another campaign, fortunately with ballots now instead of bullets like its neighbor Spain. De Valera is opposed again by Cosgrave.

The latter complains that the DeValera government really has no policy at all, that the people have to endure "a hodge-podge of bad politics and un-sound economics, an attempt to put into operation ill-conceived and badly worked out plans of various sorts, plans conceived not so much with a view to the betterment of the people as for the purpose of consolidating the political position of their promoters."

The party in power, an American reports, "has spent large sums of money in social measures involving the aid of agriculture, the erection of new housing, the extension of unemployment help, sickness insurance, old age pensions and similar schemes designed to ameliorate the lot of the masses of the people, and to wrest material well-being and social security from a reluctant economic system by special legislative acts."

It all sounds somehow strangely familiar. And so it goes in country after country, with statesmen and parties doing strange things in an effort, experimental and controversial, to fit the same old humanity to changed economic conditions.

The whole world has turned argumentative and combative, and may continue so for a generation at least, till civilization gains a readjustment and a new harmony between man and his environment, such as it had several times before in human history.

CAMPAIGN ETIQUETTE.

Light on campaigning methods and manners is given by a professor of George Washington University. Advising young men who have been taking a course in political oratory to prepare for the fall campaign, he doesn't overlook questions of good taste.

Don't indulge in flag-waving, villifying and belly-aching," he says, "except in the most remote districts."

Asked about baby-kissing, he replies, "Only in emergencies."

The professor ought to have a lot of the old-timers in his class.

Trust in recovery and save something for the next depression.

Carroll school Monday transferred all scholars of that district to the Blooming Grove school for the 1936-37 sessions following a joint meeting of the trustees of the two districts held in Corsicana Monday, according to G. H. Brown, county school superintendent.

There will not be any raise in the taxes of the Carroll district properties and the students will have the added advantage of a nine months' school instead of a four months' school. It was pointed out. The Blooming Grove district will transport the scholars from Carroll to Blooming Grove in a bus free of charge to the Carroll district.

NATIVE OF KERENS COMMUNITY BURIED MONDAY AFTERNOON

KERENS, Sept. 8.—(Sp.)—Miss Jewel Thompson, age 45, passed away at her home here Sunday night after several weeks of illness.

Funeral services under the direction of Stockton Funeral home were held at the First Methodist church Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Charles E. Wilkins, Methodist pastor, conducted the services. He was assisted by Rev. Joe N. Everheart, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Pallbearers were W. B. Talley, O. J. Inman, E. H. Gray, E. M. Westbrook, G. M. Chapman, Earl McClung, W. A. Hill and H. P. McCown. Interment was at Long Prairie cemetery.

Miss Thompson was born near Kerens and had lived in or near the town all of her life. She had long been a member of the Methodist church and was an active church worker. She is survived by her father L. H. Thompson, with whom she made her home; two brothers, Vance and Clyde Thompson both of Kerens, and other relatives.

MILO TO RESIST NEW PLANT DISEASE BEEN DEVELOPED

A. & M. EXPERIMENT STATION BULLETIN GIVES IMPORTANT INFORMATION

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 8.—(P)—Strains of milo that have proved resistant to the new plant disease known as milo rot, or milo blight, have been developed, says a bulletin from the agricultural experiment station at Texas A. & M. college here. The strain showed complete resistance in soils known to be infected with the disease and where the ordinary non-resistant strains succumbed almost 100 per cent, the bulletin says.

Experiments were conducted by R. E. Karper, vice-director of the Texas experiment station, and J. R. Quinby, superintendent of the Chillicothe station. Karper, who has studied grain sorghums for many years, says it was recognized the most effective approach to solution of the problem lay in the development of resistant strains. Last year, he and Quinby selected surviving plants from the farm of J. C. Miller at Miles where the disease destroyed more than 40 per cent of the milo crop.

The selections were tested in diseased soil at the experiment station greenhouse here, the selections being checked against well-known susceptible strains available for planting. The selections showing resistance were planted back on the Miller farm this year and, although weather conditions did not favor development for the disease, some infection was obtained in the susceptible milo and in a few of the selection.

Most of the latter, however, showed immunity, thereby verifying results found in the greenhouse, the bulletin says.

The resistant strains were planted on experiment stations at Chillicothe, Lubbock, and Spur, with a view of further selections for high yield, uniformity, and other desirable characteristics. The best strains developed in these trials will be tested at the greenhouse this winter, and strains showing resistance and other good qualities will be preserved, and increased planting of inbred seed made.

"It is believed," the bulletin says, "that within a few years sufficient seed of a new disease-resistant strain will be available for planting the entire milo acreage of Texas."

"This, undoubtedly, is the promptest arrest of a sinister threat to an important crop," the bulletin says.

The worst outbreak of milo rot, or milo blight, occurred in eight or 10 southwest counties, principally Runnels, Tom Green, Taylor, Coleman, McCulloch, Concho, Coke, and Nolan, where approximately 3,500,000 bushels of grain sorghum, about 80 per cent of which is milo, is grown yearly, the bulletin says.

The milo rot is caused by a soil borne organism, probably a water mold known as pythium. There evidently is a definite temperature and moisture relationship with widespread infection as the disease usually develops when there is an ample supply of moisture, and the infection is at its height in May, the bulletin explains. Extremely early, or very late, planting are more likely to escape infection.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Barry Demonstration Club.
"Landscaping of country homes have some advantage over landscaping city homes," they need a different treatment," said Mrs. Walter Hamilton at a meeting of the Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. Ed Varnell, Sept. 3, 1936.

Mrs. Hamilton went on to say that the growing of trees should be unbroken. Trees that are in line are not in harmony in the landscaping of a country home, for the reason that native plantings are in groups. Trees form the background, however some can be had in front so that the house does not appear too prominent. Then there should be a specious lawn, shrubbery, some being native. Arrange all of these so as to give the home an uncramped appearance. The city home doesn't have the large area of land to landscape as a country home.

There can be an outdoor living room with access to kitchen and living room also of the house.

Lastly, Mrs. Hamilton stressed the importance of keeping your place attractive after once having it made attractive.

Our club enjoyed having Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. R. P. Garrett with us, from Whites Chapel and hope they come again soon.

CLIFFORD COOMER IS CHARGED CONNECTION PATROLMAN'S INJURY

DALLAS, Sept. 9.—(P)—Charges of failure to stop and render aid were filed last night against Clifford Coomer, 39, of Corsicana, in connection with highway injury Sept. 1 of Highway Patrolman A. L. Stufflefield.

Officers alleged Coomer knocked Stufflefield from his motorcycle near Hutchins and did not halt his automobile.

Highway Patrolman J. M. Beaty, Deputy Sheriff John Rowland and Bob Atwell, Hutchins city marshal, said Coomer signed a statement regarding the wreck.

Stufflefield's leg was broken.

FARM TENANCY IN TEXAS OFTEN FAILS TO LEAD UPWARD

STUDY OF ONE SOUTHERN STATES SHOW SOME INTERESTING STATISTICS

(This is the first of three articles prepared by the information division of the Resettlement Administration upon what is being done by that organization to assist tenant farmers to become land owners)

DALLAS, Sept. 10.—(P)—Farm tenancy would be a less serious concern if it were simply a stage by which the farmer reached a higher level, but as it exists in Texas it tends to be a permanent stratification in which a large part of farmers are permanently imbedded. Financial returns to the tenant farmer ordinarily are so low he is prevented from accumulating the reserves to escape from that condition.

At a conference of southern agricultural research leaders at New Orleans new material, including a study of 700 share-croppers in Alabama, was made available. This showed only one out of ten became owners; one out of four ever rose to third-and-fourth renter in which he owned teams and equipment; and 76 per cent of them remained share-croppers throughout their lives.

The study showed that in three years out of four these families lost money or broke even. That is, during three years out of four they made enough only to liquidate what they owed their landlords, or they increased their debt to him. Another study showed that out of 3,000 share-croppers, 40 per cent were in debt to their present landlords, a debt of more than one year's standing. The average indebtedness was more than $80 to the present landlord. It was concluded from the result of this study that one-third of the share-croppers in Alabama were indebted to this extent, and the average share-cropper under the present system can expect no more than a bare living, and will remain permanently dependent upon the landlord for credit.

There are 76,463 share-cropper families in Texas, totalling more than 350,000 individuals, who have no teams or tools, and who are also entirely dependent upon their landlords for food and supplies while making a crop.

Farms in Hands of Few. Instead of the small farm owners increasing there has been a concentration of land in the hands of a few owners in the last few decades. There has been an increase in the number of farm operators, but at the same time there are indications the ownership of these farms is tending more and more to move into the hands of a comparatively few. During one ten-year period, a study made in seven cotton states showed, the number of landlords owning more than five farms increased by 25 per cent.

Many large plantations have been broken up but, when put on the block, were not divided and sold at reduced values to groups of rising small owners, but sold

Two Navarro County Teachers at Penelope

TEACHERS, Sept. 10.—Two Navarro county teachers have been added to the local school faculty which opens Monday, Sept. 14.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR URIAH CERF ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Uriah Cerf, aged 41 years, who died in a local hospital Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock after a several weeks' illness, are planned for Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the home of his mother, Mrs. L. N. Cerf, 418 West Fourth avenue. Interment is to be made in the Hebrew cemetery. The rites are to be conducted by Rabbi Charles B. Lesser of Temple Beth-El.

Surviving are his mother, two brothers, Robert and James Cerf; a sister, Miss Idalia Cerf; grandmother, Mrs. Rachael Cerf, all of Corsicana; and a number of other relatives.

Funeral services are to be held at the home of Mrs. L. N. Cerf, 418 West Fourth avenue, Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The services are to be conducted by Rabbi Charles B. Lesser of Temple Beth-El.

KIRBY INJUNCTION IGNORED AND NIGHT SPOT IS RAIDED

ATHENS, Sept. 10.—Henderson county enforcement officers have disregarded the temporary injunction which Judge Fountain Kirby of Fairfield granted earlier in the week restraining the officers from raising the Tavernale Night club near Malakoff on Highway 31. The officers raided the club Tuesday night and reported they seized four cold cans of beer.

Attorneys are reported planning to cite the officers for contempt of court for making the raid in defiance of the injunction.

en bloc to other large plantation owners, or to business and professional leaders in towns looking for investments. These buyers of foreclosed property often are financed by federal longtime farm credit and become absentee owners. It has been due to our past system of financing and credit, as much as to anything else, that the landlord-tenant system has perpetuated. The Resettlement Administration now is taking over large numbers of farms in the hands of loan companies and breaking them up into small tracts to be sold to tenants and other low-income farmers under conditions which will make it possible for small owners to pay them out.

SEVENTY PER CENT TEXAS CROP LANDS ARE UNDER CONTRACT

STATE OFFICIALS REPORT FIRST TIME ANALYSIS MADE USE ACRES

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 10.—(Spl.)—Seventy per cent of all crop land in Texas is accounted for in the 243,000 work sheets covering about 355,000 of the 501,000 Texas farms and ranches, according to H. H. Williamson, director of the Extension Service, in a summary of the Soil Conservation work of the Extension Service, presented at a meeting of the staff September 4. These figures represent approximately 25,000,000 acres of the 35,000,000 acres of crop land in the State.

These work sheets include a statement of previous land use on the farms and ranches covered by them as well as plans for shifting land out of soil-erosion crops into soil-conserving crops and practices. Tabulation of the work sheet figures indicates that at least 3,800,000 acres on Texas farms and ranches are now being devoted to soil rebuilding.

This is the first time in the history of Texas, Williamson stated, that farmers and ranchmen have made such a full analysis of the land use practices prevailing in the State. As a result many farmers and ranchmen are shifting to plans which definitely include soil building. The conservation program offers a chance to make needed changes with aid from the government in recognition that soil loss is a national problem.

According to estimates made by workers in the agricultural program there are indications that terracing, contouring, strip cropping, and other such practices to prevent soil losses will be applied to about 3,000,000 acres of Texas crop land in 1938.

Figures taken from annual reports of the Service from 1916, including 1935, show a total of 9,065,857 acres of Texas land terraced, or contoured, Williamson said.

In addition to that 1,703,740 acres of land have lately been contoured listed in the wind erosion area of Northwest Texas. In this work the Extension Service had the cooperation of the Soil Conservation Service, the Resettlement Administration, and other agencies, Williamson stated.

Dog Track Case Decision Not Due For Week at Least

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—(P)—Supreme court action on the petition of Sheriff Smoot Schmid of Dallas in the sportsman's greyhound racing association case today awaited the return of Judge Richard Critz to Austin.

VALUABLE JEWELRY RECOVERED IN RAID MINNEAPOLIS HOTEL

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 10.—(F)—Breaking into a tenth floor room of a loop hotel early today, federal agents and police seized jewelry they said was valued at between $50,000 and $75,000 and arrested Russell Houston, 28, known as "The Flea" as a suspect in a $100,000 daylight jewelry robbery in Chicago June 26.

As three federal agents and two policemen entered, said Clinton W. Stin, federal bureau of investigation chief here, Houston tossed three small packages into the alley below. In the packages were 483 diamond rings.

The federal operatives entered the case under the national stolen property act passed in 1934 which permits government intervention in a theft involving more than $5,000 worth of stolen goods if transported across a state line.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS ENDED CONVENTION TUESDAY MIDNIGHT

ENDORSE ADMINISTRATION; FAVOR THE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT RATIFICATION

FORT WORTH, Sept. 9.—(P)—Texas Democrats adjourned their state convention last midnight after an uproarious session in which the national administration was endorsed without dissent but delegates wrangled for hours over the child labor amendment to the federal constitution and censorship of the University of Texas student newspaper.

They pledged themselves with cheers to get out "the biggest vote in Texas history" for President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner, then called on the legislature to ratify the child labor amendment and refused to ask the University regents to lift the censorship.

"Our Democratic leadership has supplanted the dictatorship of privilege and the dictatorship of capital," they declared, "and we are restoring the government of the United States to the people themselves," the preamble to the platform said.

Fights over the amendment and the censorship of the student newspaper were decided officially only after long roll calls on the convention floor with sweating delegates applauding and booing.

Opponents of the child labor amendment, led by State Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, charged the American home was threatened with destruction and powers of the federal government would be extended dangerously. Holbrook predicted that the legislature would reject ratification for the fifth time.

Amendment Necessary. Proponents shouted in reply the amendment was necessary to protect children from exploitation by unscrupulous industries.

A minority report of the resolutions committee opposing endorsement was rejected 700 to 280. Speakers alternately criticized the university regents for placing a faculty supervisor over the Daily Texan, with broad authority to "kill" objectionable editorial matter, and declared interference with the independence of the school's internal affairs.

Rep. Edgar S. Keefe of Palestine said the publication was student-owned and "because the young folks will be the leaders of tomorrow they should have their say in politics today."

The resolution opposing censorship won in committee, 11 to 10, but lost on the floor, 520 to 333.

Pollard Gets Cold Feet. Former Senator Thomas Pollard of Tyler, signed the resolution but withdrew his name "because of the feeling aroused."

In other business, the convention worked through a motion picture, re-elected chairman of the executive committee and nine new members were chosen by districts as follows:

(2) E. J. McIlroy of Center; (10) Dr. W. S. Dickens of Greenville; (13) Scott Reed of Groesbeck; (14) Henry A. Bush of Franklin; (17) R. H. Hancock, Sr., El Campo; (18) Judge W. B. Green of Gonzales; (21) Charles E. Dams of Valley Mills; (23) Jas. F. Goodman of Midland; (31) J. W. King of Memphis.

The party platform included a plank calling for a "substantial" increase in the tax on natural resources.

The party reiterated its opposition to the general sales tax. Continued opposition to federal control of oil and gas was pledged. The party asked for renewal of the interstate oil compact for two years.

Platform planks included: Strengthening the chain store law; strengthening anti-lobbying laws; immediate repeal of law permitting holding of property; development of well rounded social security program to care adequately for aged, needy, orphaned, crippled and blind; adequate hospitalization for insane; increased tax on brewers and distillers; limiting old age pensions to those in need; state participation in federal unemployment insurance program; "reasonable" franchise tax on gross assets of oil and gas pipelines companies; "reasonable" increase in inheritance taxes; empowering supreme court to fix rules of civil court procedure; empowering state tax board to aid counties in determining values of properties of oil, sulphur and insurance companies and other large businesses.

Reduction of public utility rates and enactment of laws making it practicable for any city to operate its own public utilities; reduced hours of labor without reduction of salaries; maximum co-operation between the legislative and executive branches.

Marrying Barber Sentenced to Die For Wife Murder

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—(P)—Superior Judge Charles W. Frick sentenced Robert S. James today to die on the gallows for the murder of his seventh wife, Mary. The death sentence was made mandatory by the jury that convicted James, red-haired Birmingham, Ala., master barber, of killing his wife by subjecting her to the bite of a rattlesnake while the two were in a bathtub.

His attorneys argued in vain that he should be granted a new trial. They contended that prosecutors were guilty of misconduct in taking two rattlesnakes into court.

FIVE ADDITIONAL AMERICANS REFUSE APPEAR ON PROGRAM

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION DEVELOPED IN WORLD POWER CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—Five more Americans scheduled to speak today at the World Power conference withdrew from the day's discussions of government utility policies.

Three others declined to make scheduled talks yesterday. Failure of the five to take part in the program followed soon after Major General Edward M. Markham, the session chairman, had demanded that "politics, controversial matter and advertising" be excluded from discussions.

Markham made the demand as an outgrowth of a heated exchange yesterday over "yard stick" utility policies.

At that time state regulation of utilities was criticized by Maurice P. Davidson, personal representative of Mayor La Guardia of New York. He contended the public was paying in rates and taxes to maintain regulatory bodies and that competition was a more effective means of control.

The United States representatives did not comment on their failure to speak. Those who withdrew from the morning's program were:

E. F. Scatterwood, chief electrical engineer and general manager of the Los Angeles Power and Light bureau; Robert E. Hardwick, oil engineer; J. E. Peck, vice president of the Sun Oil company; Edwin S. Hall, petroleum expert; and Fred A. Elden, independent delegate.

Those who eliminated themselves from yesterday's discussions were: Walter C. Beckjord, vice president of Columbia Gas and Electric Co.; Alexander Forward, managing director of the American Gas Association; and L. B. Dennis, president of the Lone Star Gas company.

Decisions Hammer Planning. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—Stuart Chase, economist, said today that supreme court decisions are hampering national and regional planning to conserve natural resources.

"Planning is not a simple matter of Washington versus the states," he told the world power conference in a paper, "The states, or parts of them, fall in line. The most sensible definition of a region from the resource point of view is usually the basin of a great river."

Arguing for broader planning, Chase said "river regions cannot be planned for development alone, or for flood control alone, to any permanent advantage."

Rayburn Asked Give Financial Aid Republicans. NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(P)—Rep. Sam Rayburn, of Texas, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the democratic national committee, made public today a letter sent to him bearing the inscription of the republican national committee and signed by "Charles B. Goodspeed, treasurer," seeking a financial contribution to the Landon-Knox campaign.

"I guess they got their wires crossed," said Chairman James A. Farley, who was with Rayburn when the letter was made public.

"The betrayal of the democratic party by the new deal has made the election of Governor Landon and Colonel Knox essential for the preservation of the traditional form of our American government," said the letter addressed to Rayburn, concluding:

"Your assistance in this crusade is earnestly requested and a liberal contribution to this national campaign will be greatly appreciated."

In replying to the letter, on the stationery of the democratic national committee, Rayburn said: "Since I have taken a position in these headquarters, I believe it would be rather inconsistent for me to accept your invitation to be of assistance in defeating Mr. Roosevelt, and as for giving you financial assistance, of course this is impossible for any democrat to do."

OVER MILLION AND THIRD BALES BELOW AUGUST ESTIMATE

TOTAL OF 11,121,000 BALES EXPECTED BE HARVESTED BUREAU STATES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(P)—A reduction of 1,360,000 bales in the cotton crop for this country under the estimate of a month ago was forecast today by the crop reporting board of the agriculture department.

It estimated a total crop of 11,121,000 bales as of the first of this month. This compares with 10,638,000 bales last year, 9,636,000 bales in 1934 and the five-year (1923-32) average of 14,667,000 bales.

The federal board estimated that 2.9 per cent of the cotton acreage on July 1 had been, or would be, abandoned, leaving 29,720,000 acres remaining for harvest in the country. Indicated yield per acre was placed at 179.2 pounds of seed cotton, which was less than the 193.3 pounds last year but above the 10-year (1923-32) average of 169.9 pounds.

Damage to the crop was said to have been most serious in Oklahoma and Northwest Texas "where many fields are almost a complete failure." The hot, dry weather "caused excessive shedding of squares among the early crops and also prevented the full development of the bolls remaining on the plants," the board reported.

Improves From Alabama East. The crop in states from Alabama east was said to have improved during August, but the board said the final outcome of much of that section was "dependent on the date of the first frost."

Damage by weevils was reported "relatively light because of weather conditions, with the exception of South Texas where the pests were reported 'very numerous' with 'quite heavy' losses in many localities."

The census bureau simultaneously announced that ginnings from this year's crop prior to Sept. 1 totaled 1,373,568 running bales, compared with 1,135,090 for 1935 and 1,402,835 for 1934.

The condition of the crop on Sept. 1 was 63.1 per cent of a normal, compared with 72.3 per cent a month ago, 64.5 on Sept. 1 last year, and 57.7, the 1923-32 Sept. 1 average.

The indicated yield of lint is 179.2 pounds per acre, compared with 166.3 for last year, and 169.9, the 1923-32 average.

The indicated abandonment of acreage after July 1 is 2.9 per cent of the 30,621,000 acres in cultivation on the date, leaving 29,720,000 acres for harvest.

The condition on Sept. 1, and indicated production by states was announced as:

Virginia, condition 74, and indicated production 29,000 bales; North Carolina, 69 and 556,000; South Carolina, 64 and 705,000; Georgia, 64 and 982,000; Florida, 72 and 30,000; Mississippi, 56 and 20,000; Tennessee, 60 and 331,000; Alabama, 72 and 1,093,000; Missouri, 74 and 1,601,000; Louisiana, 67 and 556,000; Texas, 52 and 3,046,000; Oklahoma, 24 and 239,000; Arkansas, 52 and 217,000; New Mexico, 88 and 100,000; Arizona, 90 and 154,000; California, 97 and 427,000; all other states, 58 and 11,000; Lower California (Old Mexico) 95 and 69,000, (later not included in United States or California totals).

(Arizona 1936 crop includes 20,000 bales of Pima Egyptian long staple cotton.)

Ginnings prior to Sept. 1 included 9,307 round bales, counted as half bales, and 101 bales of American-Egyptian, compared with 7,162 and 14 a year ago, and 19,215 and 203 two years ago.

Ginnings by states follows: Alabama, 197,348; Arizona, 4,913; Arkansas, 77,353; California, 524; Florida, 102,600; Georgia, 194,839; Louisiana, 181,092; Mississippi, 247,191; Missouri, 13,463; Oklahoma, 14,541; South Carolina, 28,498; Texas, 460,168; all other states, 3,178.

NEW YORK ADVANCES HEAVILY. NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(P)—Cotton prices soared 75 points or $3.75 a bale today following the government's estimate of a crop of 11,121,000 bales, or 1,360,000 less than the August forecast.

Buying orders poured into the futures market sending the entire list above the level of 12 cents a pound. The October delivery reached 12.22 cents a pound, December 12.25, March 12.31 and May 12.35.

The trade considered the estimate as nothing more than a sentimental order, and adopted a creed and motto. Mr. Brown pointed out the effectiveness of the club's work in certain localities.

He said there have been ordered 290 clubs, but some of them have disbanded. The others are in healthy condition now, Mr. Brown declared.

The speaker declared the club is not a panacea for all ills, but has a place in the community life, and as long as it continues with a program of service, will remain active. On the other hand, Mr. Brown said, if the members meet only for a good time and their own interests, it will die.

He closed with the statement that all clubs have different tastes but all are working toward the same end—that of rendering service.

Announcements were made by F. A. Pierce and W. P. McCammon.

el general, Francisco Franco. Franco informed the American consul at Seville yesterday there was a possibility that the Kane's serial assailant was a rebel airplane pilot who had been unable to establish this definitely. The Madrid ministry of state, on the other hand, denied that any loyalist plane was involved.

Hull said the American government would continue to give close attention to the incident as long as the plane's identity and the real facts concerning its motives were not satisfactorily revealed.

Responsible quarters said this government's attitude as outlined by the secretary of state, did not reflect any official desire to inflict punishment on those responsible for the attack because authorities here have no doubt that it was an error without ulterior motives. The government, however, is determined to do all possible to establish definite responsibility in order, as one authoritative source said, to "keep the record straight."

CHARTER MEMBERS AND COMECOMING DAY FOR CIVITAN CLUB

LOCAL SERVICE CLUB COMPLETES ELEVEN YEARS OF LIFE IN CITY

Completing eleven years of active service in Corsicana, the Civitan club observed a charter membership and homecoming day at its regular luncheon meeting on Thursday at the Navarro hotel.

Present were 40 members and former members of the club, including ten members whose names appeared on the club's original charter granted July 31, 1925.

Principal speaker today was G. H. Brown, county school superintendent, who reviewed briefly the history of Civitan International, and made a talk upon the purpose, creed and motto and worthwhile activities of the club.

President Robert Cason presided, and appointed C. B. Couch and Ballard W. George as next week's committee. Two pupils of Miss Rose Sizemore, Sue Carroll and Peggy McCarty, gave two tap dance numbers as the first portion of the program. A quartet composed of Dr. J. Wilson David, W. B. Waddell, L. K. Caraway and M. A. Spurgeon, accompanied by Miss Juanita Brown, club pianist, sang a number and Dr. David sang a solo, as the encore.

Charter Members. Charter members present were: N. Stutle Roberts, Dr. E. P. Norwood, Ballard W. George, Dr. David, Lawrence (Sadie), Raymond, W. McCarty, M. A. Spurgeon, Ed M. Polk, Jr., Dr. S. H. Burnett and C. A. Vaughn. Former members present were August Wendorf and W. B. Waddell. Each of the charter and former members was introduced and spoke briefly upon his former or present associations with the club.

Mr. Brown after telling at least two side splitting jokes, reviewed the history of Civitan International, and said it was organized in 1917, when a group of civic minded men banded together with two purposes, first to curb crime and second to assist in the prevention of tuberculosis. Later the club received its charter, and adopted a creed and motto. Mr. Brown pointed out the effectiveness of the club's work in certain localities.

He said there have been ordered 290 clubs, but some of them have disbanded. The others are in healthy condition now, Mr. Brown declared.

The speaker declared the club is not a panacea for all ills, but has a place in the community life, and as long as it continues with a program of service, will remain active. On the other hand, Mr. Brown said, if the members meet only for a good time and their own interests, it will die.

He closed with the statement that all clubs have different tastes but all are working toward the same end—that of rendering service.

NAZIS OPEN ANNUAL CONVENTION TUESDAY IN NURNBERG CITY

POSTERS PROCLAIM "WORLD ENEMY NO. 1—BOLSHE- VISM" OVER CITY

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 8.—(P)—Adolf Hitler told a joyous throng of Nazis tonight he had "restored full arms sovereignty" to the German nation.

Der Fuehrer, here for the fourth annual convention of the national socialist party which he founded in the setting of obscure Munich beer halls more than a decade ago, spoke at city hall, after accepting prizes, four-century-old drawings of Nurnberg.

In a three-minute speech, he told the assembled thousands: "This gift, with its plans for the city's ramparts and defenses, reminds me of this most difficult period in my life—when, in the past year, I restored full arms sovereignty to the nation."

In that period the reichs chancellor remilitarized the Rhineland, defying post-war treaties, and further increased Germany's armed forces.

He came to this city of 800,000 Nazis during the afternoon, entering the thronged streets like a Caesar of old. He found Nurnberg plastered with posters proclaiming bolshevism "World Enemy No. 1."

Hours prior to his arrival, the three-mile road from the airport to the rather modest hotel "Deutscher Hof" had been lined with expectant throngs.

Their enthusiasm knew no bounds when Der Fuehrer's open car passed slowly by with Hitler, bare-headed and upright, again and again giving the Nazi salute. He wore the traditional brown shirt of his movement.

Meanwhile, Otto Dietrich, Hitler's press chief, addressed newspaper correspondents and extolled the Nazi form of government as the "most modern democracy in history."

In place of the majority principle of wrongly interpreted democracy, it sets the principle of responsibility in the true democratic leadership of the state," he said.

At the time, contrary to some predictions, Dr. Ernst Hanfstaengl, foreign-educated chief of the foreign press section of the propaganda ministry, arrived promptly for the convention and received a warm, friendly welcome by other prominent Nazis.

In well-informed party circles it was stated that the Fuehrer's temperamental friend, although here for the convention sessions, will not play a prominent role. This tended to confirm what had been an open secret for more than a year—that Hanfstaengl no longer stands as high with Hitler as he once did.

NURNBERG, Germany Sept. 8.—(P)—Through a city plastered with posters proclaiming "world enemy No. 1—bolshevism" some 800,000 Nazis surged today to open their fourth annual convention.

That was the theme of the whole first day.

A portable anti-bolshevist exhibition of 12 moving vans also, plastered with the "world enemy No. 1" posters and containing sheets of anti-communist propaganda, rolled along the streets and finally settled down in Horse Market square for the duration of the session.

Marching columns swung through the medieval city. Traffic was prohibited in the thoroughfares as police, their numbers reinforced by 47,000 black-shirted bodyguards, kept order during the first of a week's demonstrations.

State and party officials journeyed to the party shrine to review accomplishments of the last year and receive orders from Der Fuehrer for the coming 12 months.

None knew what those orders might be except the reichs-chancellor who will deliver the final exhortation next Monday.

White Man Arrested. A white man was arrested on Highway 75 early Thursday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff J. M. Westbrooke and Allen Calloway after a cab driver had reported he had been threatened by a passenger. The accused man was booked at the jail on a drunkenness charge.

Over Two Hundred Saved As Pleasure Craft Is Sunk

ANALYSIS GOVERNMENT RE- PORT SHOWS THIS SEC- TION 62 PERCENT

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—The spectacular rescue of 159 pleasure-boat passengers and 53 crewmen whose excursion boat sank into fog-shrouded Boston harbor brought praise for cool seamanship today—and at the same time an investigation by the federal steamboat inspection service.

The steamer Romance, returning from a trip to Cape Cod, sank 20 minutes after a collision with the Manhattan bound liner New York tore a hole in her port side last night.

In those 20 minutes was enacted one of the most stirring dramas of this historic harbor. A bridge of ladders was thrown from the liner New York to the Romance. Across it went a majority of the excursion boat's passengers. Others were saved by five lifeboats lowered by the New York.

A moment after Captain Adelberg of the Romance saw the ship plunged under the waves bow first, her whistle moaning. Five persons were taken to hospitals.

We can thank the perfect discipline of the Romance crew that we are alive today," said Tolbert McKay of Milton, Mass., an experienced yachtsman.

ANGUS, Sept. 10.—(Spl)—Mrs. Herbert Soape and son, Ralph, of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Clarence Harris and son, Donald, of Milverna spent few days with their sister, Mrs. B. R. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ware and family of Corsicana visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ware, Sunday.

Mrs. Maud E. Walker and P. E. Walker visited Mrs. L. H. Stewart Sunday afternoon.

Miss Annie Maud Tilton has returned home after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. H. H. Pugh, in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards and daughter of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Ware of Corsicana and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Jones of Mildred were spend-the-day guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fowler, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parker and boys, Valton and Loyd, returned home after a two weeks visit in New Mexico.

COTTON CROP IN NAVARRO COUNTY BETTER THAN 1935

ANALYSIS GOVERNMENT RE- PORT SHOWS THIS SEC- TION 62 PERCENT

An analysis of the government report on the condition of the cotton crop in Texas as of September 1 shows the condition of Navarro county as 62 per cent of normal compared with 61 per cent at the same time last year and 59 per cent for the 1923-32 five-year average. Navarro county is in district four, the black land belt, according to the division of the state by the government for forecasting purposes.

There are ten divisions in the state. Divisions 1, 2 and 3, located in the extreme western and the panhandle section of the state showed the greatest decline in conditions of any other divisions in the state. The condition in Division 1 on September 1 this year was 48 as compared with 61 last year and 66 for the five-year average. District 2 showed 30 per cent on September 1 this year as compared with 64 last year and 56 for the five-year average. The comparative figures in Division 3 were 47, 69 and 51 respectively. The other divisions varied only slightly.

The government report indicates decrease of 814,000 bales on September 1 this year as compared with the August 1 report this year. The production for the state is estimated at 3,036,000 as compared with 2,856,000 last year or an increase of 80,000. These figures indicate that the heaviest part of the reduction since August 1 was in the western section of the state and that the production per acre for this section will be about the same as last year.

Head San Antonio Drug Company Dead

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 16.—(P)—William Ochse, 58, who rose from bottle washer to president and general manager of the San Antonio Drug Company, the largest independent wholesale drug house in the world, died at 10:30 o'clock this morning at his home following a heart attack.

PIANOS . . . PIANOS NEW AND SLIGHTLY USED SOLD ON EASY TERMS. PIANOS TUNED AND REPAIRED

G. D. RHODES, JEWELER MUSICO

While cotton prices soared in Bombay today as a base for trade was sought to adjust to the rapid rise Tuesday in Liverpool and New York, the two latter markets showed a leveling off of the buying surge which followed the much reduced U. S. government crop estimate.

Noon prices in New York were 5 to 20 cents a bale higher with the five nearest active months for future delivery quoted at 12.18 cents a pound. At the opening bid and ranged from 20 to 35 cents a bale.

The close in Liverpool was unchanged to the equivalent approximately .18 of a cent a pound lower.

At Bombay a frantic buying rush was reported which advanced some future options as much as 8 rupees (about $3.05) per kandy of 74 pounds.

In all three markets trading was unusually active.

REV. E. T. MILLER PRINCIPAL SPEAKER BAPTIST BANQUET

FIRST FALL MEETING BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD HELD ON TUESDAY EVENING

Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church, was the principal speaker Tuesday night at the first fall meeting of the Baptist Brotherhood at the church. G. H. Brown, president of the Brotherhood, presided and was toastmaster. A varied program including whistling, piano, and vocal solos was rendered. The banquet was served by the Home-makers class.

The pastor appealed to the men of the church to attend the prayer service Wednesday noon for the approaching revival meeting to be held at the church, Sept. 13-27, when Rev. Hyman Appleman, Ft. Worth, converted Jew, will be in charge. The minister told the story of Caleb, one of the leaders in early history of the Hebrews, going forth for his greatest battle when he was 85 years old. The Rev. Mr. Miller sought the co-operation of the men of the church in making a great revival meeting to "bring the church and town to God" and "to win souls to Christ."

The speaker said that the present generation is suffering for lack of leadership as that given the children of Israel by Caleb. The program committee was Burleigh Butler, W. E. Griffin and Virgil Williamson.

Herman Bomar appeared in whistling solos, with Miss Clover Rutherford as accompanist. His numbers were "Indian Love Call" and "Song of the Islands."

Mrs. Gladys Petrus was presented in "Cribbribin" from "One Night of Love," and "It's a Sin to Tell a Lie," with Miss Elise Miller as accompanist at the piano.

Leland Lee sang two songs with Mrs. Jimmie Mansfield as accompanist.

Miss Clover Rutherford appeared in a medley of songs and piano feature of her own arrangement.

INJUNCTION STOPS OFFICERS RAIDING HENDERSON COUNTY

ATHEENS, Sept. 9.—Sheriff Jess Sweeten, Constable Pete Wood of Precinct No. 1, and Constable Dan Billings of Precinct No. 8 were restrained and enjoined from interfering with molesting, disturbing or destroying the free conduct of the business of R. M. Winans, manager of the Tavernale Night Club on Highway 31, near Malakoff, Tuesday in a temporary injunction granted by Judge Fountain Kirby of the 77th Judicial District Court of Texas, acting for Judge Ben F. Dent, judge of the Third Judicial Court of Texas.

The petition of the plaintiff Winans said that he "operates a dance hall and sandwich shop in compliance with the laws of the State of Texas."

The club has been raided more than 15 times during the past several days by Henderson county officers.

The attorneys, acting for the plaintiff, included Richard Signe of Athens, and F. W. Lovett and J. C. Jacobs of Corsicana.

TEXAS LEADS STATES IN SANITARY MILK; CORSICANA ON LIST

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Texas today stood first among states in the union on the federal health service honor roll for milk sanitation.

The cities are: Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Ballinger, Beaumont, Big Spring, Brownwood, Corsicana, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Fort Worth, Gainesville, Galveston, Houston, Kerrville, Laredo, Livingston, Lubbock, Midland, Port Arthur, San Angelo, San Antonio, Seguin, Sherman, Sweetwater, Texarkana, Tyler, Victoria, Waco and Wichita Falls, as cities in which both pasteurized and raw milk are sold.

Robert Taylor Coming to Palace

Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor form the screen's newest romantic team in "His Brother's Wife," which comes to the Palace theatre Saturday night, 11:30, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Taylor, regarded as the most sensational box-office draw since Clark Gable first leaped to fame, comes into his newest leading role following such hits as "Private Number," "Small Town Girl" and "Magnificent Obsession." W. S. Van Dyke, the man who made such outstanding pictures as "San Francisco," "Rose Marie," and "Naughty Marietta," directed "His Brother's Wife." The new picture, adapted to the screen by Leon Gordon and John Meehan, also features Jean Hersholt who has become tremendously popular as the result of starring roles in "The Country Doctor" and "Sins of Men."

SIX COTTON BELT OFFICIALS PASSED THROUGH CORSICANA

Six officials of the Cotton Belt railroad all of Tyler, passed through Corsicana shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday morning on an inspection tour, and proceeded to Waco after spending about 10 minutes here conferring with local Cotton Belt officials.

They were traveling in a high-way motor bus which had had the rubber tire wheels replaced by ones to fit the rails, and was converted into a railroad vehicle. In the party were K. M. Post, vice-president and general superintendent; V. C. Nall, chief division engineer; W. S. Handley, chief engineer; W. C. Hazelwood, division superintendent; J. L. Enright, bridge and building supervisor and N. S. Rosemond, fuel supervisor.

Corsicana Family Returns From Visit Alabama, Tennessee

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Washburn and children, Louise, Charles, Felix, Jr., and Donald, have just returned from a trip which took them to Alabama and Tennessee. They visited Mr. Washburn's relatives in Birmingham, Ala. After staying there several days the Washburns went to Nashville, Tenn., where they visited relatives of Mrs. Washburn. They were gone two weeks and traveled over 2,000 miles.

HOLD WHITE MAN IN CONNECTION BURGLARY CHARGE

A 44-year old white man was transferred by city officers to county authorities Wednesday morning on charges of burglary and assault with deadly weapon as a result of an attempted burglary of the home of Mrs. Myrtle Meadows, 513 North Fourteenth street, on Monday night.

According to information received from city officers, Mrs. Meadows was awakened by the presence of a masked man in her room; she screamed and the intruder grappled with her and in the tussle she was scraped across the hand with an ice-pick, inflicting a slight wound.

Early Tuesday morning, a white man was arrested in a small hut a few blocks away by city officers, an ice pick and a handkerchief folded in the shape of a mask near him. Acting chief of police, Bruce Nutt, reported that the man's criminal record showed that he had served five terms in state penitentiary for house breaking, and one in a federal prison for a narcotic charge.

Chief Nutt also reported that positive identification of the man as the intruder was made Wednesday morning by Mrs. Meadows and his transfer to county officials followed.

Formal complaints for assault with intent to murder and burglary against Tom Hamilton were filed before Judge W. T. McFadden shortly before noon. The charges were signed by J. M. Westbrook, deputy sheriff, before Chris L. Knox, assistant criminal district attorney.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"Why do Banks expect a loan to be paid when due?"

A loan is a contract between the bank and the borrower. If it is not repaid when due, the contract is broken. Ability to repay is the best proof that the loan is good.

There are, however, circumstances which sometimes justify renewal. But bankers know from experience that the longer a loan is carried the weaker it usually gets. Bank examiners are, in fact, very critical of a loan which does not turn over at least once a year.

Prompt repayment is also better for the borrower — for it strengthens his credit.

A bank cannot tie up its funds for long periods because most of its deposits are subject to withdrawal on demand. Furthermore, bank credit is for the use of the whole community and regular repayments are necessary for making fresh loans.
